"Oshkosh Scholar" is a publication that gives you the opportunity to explore and celebrate your scholarly achievements by submitting your original research.
Getting Published

Enrolled UW Oshkosh students and recent graduates are eligible to submit their scholarly and creative works to “Oshkosh Scholar” for the chance to be published in an annual printed or electronic journal.

“Oshkosh Scholar” is a collaborative effort between students and faculty at UW Oshkosh. Students are involved in editing and production coordination, and faculty review articles through a blind review process.

Publication Benefits

- Acceptance to graduate school
- Future career (resume, etc.)
- Scholarships
- Scholarly process
- Hands on education
- Personal satisfaction for having your work published
- And more...

Scholarly and Creative Works

- Independent study projects
- Honors theses
- Undergraduate Student/Faculty Collaborative Research projects
- Other faculty-mentored undergraduate research or scholarship
- Creative work, if accompanied by a scholarly essay explaining the work

Deadlines

- Early submission deadline is Jan. 31, 2014
- Student/faculty collaborative research program proposals are due on Feb. 11, 2014
- Late submission deadline is June 2, 2014

“As one of my best students put it, having his research published would be, ‘beyond the reward of an A.’ Good students are used to getting good grades; they are not used to seeing their research efforts in print. “Oshkosh Scholar” is a perfect showcase for them.”

- Tracy Slagter, “Oshkosh Scholar” 2008-2011 faculty adviser